

Math for the people, by the people.

Acta Mathematica

|                  |                     |
|------------------|---------------------|
| Canonical name   | ActaMathematica     |
| Date of creation | 2013-03-22 16:33:57 |
| Last modified on | 2013-03-22 16:33:57 |
| Owner            | PrimeFan (13766)    |
| Last modified by | PrimeFan (13766)    |
| Numerical id     | 5                   |
| Author           | PrimeFan (13766)    |
| Entry type       | Definition          |
| Classification   | msc 01A65           |
| Classification   | msc 01A61           |
| Classification   | msc 01A60           |
| Classification   | msc 01A55           |

The Acta Mathematica is a mathematical journal published four times a year by the Institut Mittag-Leffler in Sweden since 1882. The work of famous mathematicians like David Hilbert, Jules Henri Poincaré has been published in the journal. The articles are in English, French and German, with the typesetting done in LaTeX.