

Math for the people, by the people.

Charles Fefferman

Canonical name	CharlesFefferman
Date of creation	2013-03-22 16:44:33
Last modified on	2013-03-22 16:44:33
Owner	jirka (4157)
Last modified by	jirka (4157)
Numerical id	5
Author	jirka (4157)
Entry type	Biography
Classification	msc 01A65
Synonym	Charles Louis Fefferman

Charles Louis Fefferman (born April 18, 1949) is a Professor of mathematics at Princeton University. Fefferman was a prodigy, receiving his PhD at Princeton at the age of 20 with advisor Elias Stein. He became full professor at University of Chicago at age 22 and came back to Princeton soon afterwards. He received the Fields medal in 1978. He is well known for his work in several complex variables.