

Math for the people, by the people.

Grigori Perelman

Canonical name	GrigoriPerelman
Date of creation	2013-03-22 16:14:47
Last modified on	2013-03-22 16:14:47
Owner	PrimeFan (13766)
Last modified by	PrimeFan (13766)
Numerical id	5
Author	PrimeFan (13766)
Entry type	Biography
Classification	msc 01A65
Synonym	Grigori Yakovlevich Perelman

Grigori Yakovlevich Perelman (born 1966) Russian mathematician currently best known for turning down the Fields medal. He was selected for the award because of his work on Poincaré's conjecture. Also, it is believed he may have proven Thurston's geometrization conjecture.