

Math for the people, by the people.

Dorothy Bernstein

Canonical name	DorothyBernstein
Date of creation	2013-03-22 16:40:26
Last modified on	2013-03-22 16:40:26
Owner	Mravinci (12996)
Last modified by	Mravinci (12996)
Numerical id	6
Author	Mravinci (12996)
Entry type	Biography
Classification	msc 01A60
Synonym	Dorothy Lewis Bernstein

Dorothy Lewis Bernstein (1914 - 1988) American mathematician, computer programmer and educator. Member of the American Mathematical Society and first woman elected president of the Mathematical Association of America. Due in great part to Bernstein's ability to get grants from the National Science Foundation, Goucher College (where she taught for decades) was the first women's university to use computers in mathematics instruction in the 1960s. She and also made a great effort to give her students internship opportunities.

References

- [1] F. D. Fasanelli "Dorothy Lewis Bernstein" in Women of Mathematics: A Bibliographic Sourcebook L. Grinstein, P. Campbell, ed.s New York: Greenwood Press (1987): 17 - 20